

J. Alexander Sloan

Alex has spent over ten years in venture capital successfully investing in and growing young companies in a variety of sectors, including Clean Technology, eBusiness services, enterprise software and communications services from seed stage through IPO/acquisition.

Alex has been a Principal at leading Cleantech venture firm Expansion Capital Partners since 2006. He is a member of the investment committee and is involved with sourcing, closing and monitoring the firm's Cleantech venture investments. Alex is actively involved with the firm's portfolio companies World Energy Labs and SensorTran.

Prior to joining Expansion, Alex co-founded and was a partner at Blackwolf Partners, an early stage Cleantech venture capital firm.

Alex has also served as a venture investment professional and senior manager at JPMorgan Partners, Hambrecht & Quist's venture unit and Vietnam Fund Management Company.

Alex serves as Chairman and President of National Youth Leadership Forum, a leading non-profit company that organizes career-oriented educational programs for high school students. Alex is a member of the Advisory Council of the Center for Sustainable Global Enterprise at Cornell University and the Industrial Advisory Board of the Department of Materials Engineering at CalPoly. Alex often lectures on venture capital financing, entrepreneurship and sustainable technologies.

Alex earned a B.A. degree in International Relations and Asian Studies from Tulane University, studied at the Chinese University of Hong Kong, and holds an MBA from Cornell University.