

An Interview with New Hanson Bridgett Partner, Anita Zerounian

Anita's practice covers a broad range of real estate and corporate transactions spanning a number of areas: commercial real estate acquisitions, dispositions, and related mortgage-backed financings; corporate formation; private equity and financings; debt financings; corporate mergers and acquisitions; leasing; and tax-exempt bond financings. She has extensive experience in health care financing and in the representation of borrowers in HUD-insured loan transactions for multifamily and senior housing facilities.

1. What made you choose Hanson Bridgett?

I worked at Hanson Bridgett as a summer associate and it was clear to me from the beginning that it was a special place to work. The partners and associates genuinely enjoyed working with each other and for their clients. Although delivering excellent client service and superior legal work product is always a priority, it did not come at the price of decreased job satisfaction or at the expense of the culture at the firm.

2. Besides law, what are some of your other passions?

I sang semi-professionally in my youth. Although I don't get to sing as much as I would like anymore, I still enjoy singing and music – mostly with my children now.

3. If you weren't practicing law, what do you see yourself doing?

Buying and selling real estate.
