Tina advises on complex federal tax matters, high-stakes corporate transactions, and regulatory compliance. She previously represented the Commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service before the United States Tax Court and served as a legal advisor to both the IRS and the Department of Justice on a wide range of national and international tax issues.

Tina provides strategic counsel on how corporations and passthrough entities leverage tax benefits in joint ventures, mergers, and acquisitions. She regularly advises on tax enforcement strategies, regulatory interpretation, and policy application, drafting legal memoranda, court filings, and advisory opinions in global tax disputes.

In addition to her tax background, Tina works with clients on mergers and acquisitions, investment management, capital markets, and fintech transactions. She represents both buyers and sellers in complex deals. Her work also includes negotiating agreements, guiding clients through corporate governance matters, and analyzing assets for clients.
